Speech therapy for young children

Speech therapy for young children

Normally children learn their mother tongue seemingly effortlessly. However, this complex process is not always trouble free. When a child does not speak or talks in a way which is difficult to understand or if parents are worried about their child's speech then assessment, counselling and perhaps if necessary speech therapy is important for the future development of its language skills.

The services we provide

- assessment of the level of retarded speech
- counselling for parents and other important caregivers
- if necessary, speech therapy on a one-to-one basis or in small groups
- counselling and coaching for play group leaders, employees of day care nurseries and other experts
- preventive measures such as training for parents

For whom

Children from birth up to the age when they start nursery school who require special support because of a delay or disorder in the development of their language skills (communication, language, speech).

Who can organise an appointment

- parents or other caregivers
- experts with permission from the parents

Costs

Parents do not have to pay for speech therapy for young children. The canton finances the service.
